PPG PAINTS ARENA

PPG Paints Arena is the new name of Pittsburgh's multi-purpose entertainment venue -- home of the NHL's Pittsburgh Penguins as well as collegiate sports, concerts, children's shows, skating shows and more.

PPG acquired naming rights on October 4, 2016 to the arena that had been known previously as CONSOL Energy Center.

"We are excited to extend our partnership with PPG -- a top-notch global organization that makes its home here in Pittsburgh," said David Morehouse, president and CEO of the Penguins. "We believe that the partnership will offer exciting opportunities for our fans, as well as engagement opportunities for PPG employees and customers."

The arena, now in its seventh season of operation, is one of the finest indoor facilities in North America. In addition to the 2016 Stanley Cup Final and the 2012 NHL Draft, it has hosted the NCAA Men's Basketball Tournament Second and Third rounds (2012 and 2015), the NCAA Frozen Four (2013) and the USA Gymnastics Championships (2014). In March 2017, PPG Paints Arena will host the Atlantic 10 Conference championship tournament.

The new facility opened its doors on August 18, 2010 with a grand opening concert by music legend Paul McCartney, who had not performed in the city since 1990. McCartney had played Pittsburgh as far back as 1964 at the old Civic Arena across the street.

In 2016, Bruce Springsteen opened his worldwide tour of "The River" before a sold-out crowd here. Springsteen and the E Street Band practiced at the arena for five days.

The facility seats 18,387 for hockey, more than 19,000 for basketball and almost 20,000 for concerts. It is a green building and is the first NHL arena to attain LEED Gold certification.

PPG Paints Arena will continue to host the annual "City Game" between NCAA basketball rivals Pitt and Duquesne as well as the annual "Three Rivers Classic" hockey tournament, featuring the Robert Morris Colonials.

A funding plan for the new arena project was completed in March, 2007, thanks to the combined efforts of Pennsylvania Governor Ed Rendell, Allegheny County Executive Dan Onorato and Pittsburgh Mayor Luke Ravenstahl, among others.

The arena was completed on time and under budget in 2010, thanks to architectural firms Populous and Astorino; the owner's representative, ICON; the construction company, PJ Dick/Hunt; and the excellent construction workers and skilled trade workers of Western Pennsylvania.

The Sports & Exhibition Authority owns the building on behalf of the city and county, and the Penguins have the lease. Under a new management agreement signed in August, 2012, the arena is managed by AEG Facilities.

- David Morehouse, CEO and President

LE MAGNIFIQUE

Penguins Hall of Fame owner Mario Lemieux addressed the crowd during the 'Le Magnifique' statue dedication on March 7, 2012.

Le Magnifique The Statue

The singular image of Mario Lemieux's greatness as a hockey player is Lemieux bursting through two defensemen en route to the goal – brilliant, determined, unstoppable. As captured in this unique sculpture, the image also is a metaphor for everything Lemieux has accomplished in his life and career, overcoming obstacles, turning back challenges, facing seemingly insurmountable odds yet somehow succeeding through talent, dedication and sheer will. After beating cancer, Lemieux turned his focus to raising money for cancer research and neo-natal research, and his efforts through the Mario Lemieux Foundation have had a far-ranging impact on our community, especially our children. Having bought the Pittsburgh Penguins out of bankruptcy, he also led the effort to turn them into a model franchise – worthy of championships but also of the No. 1 ranking in Fan Relations in all of professional sports. His relentless quest for a new arena for Pittsburgh resulted in the spectacular PPG Paints Arena, the region's new multi-purpose entertainment center and soon to be a magnet for 21st century development.

Known to hockey fans as the primary practice home of the Stanley Cup champion Pittsburgh Penguins, it also is the first such facility in the country to combine hockey with a world-class medical center and performance training center

Now in its second year of operation, the 185,000-square foot complex includes 54,000 square feet of clinical space, offering expert care in orthopaedics, concussion management, physical and occupational therapy and on-site MRI and x-ray imaging.

The Penguins have a locker room and weight room similar to those at PPG Paints Arena as well as other NHL-style facilities for coaches and players.

The two sheets of ice here are home to the Penguins Elite youth hockey program in addition to amateur and high school games, adult hockey leagues and instructional camps and clinics. Events have ranged from basic learn-to-skate programs to United States Hockey League games and World Cup of Hockey practices.

The facility offers public skating and figure skating and hosts other community events.

"Absolutely incredible," NHL Commissioner Gary Bettman said. "I don't think there's a facility like this in the world, that has the combination of medical treatment, diagnosis, rehab, training, fitness and the ice rinks themselves. And to have it staffed by UPMC physicians, to have Gary Roberts here in terms of athletic training ... this is going to be a revolutionary place."

Roberts, the former NHL star who played parts of two seasons with the Penguins, oversees the philosophy and off-ice training regimen at the facility's Sports Performance Center. He also consults with full-time UPMC staff to create fitness programs that can benefit players at all levels of hockey.

"Gary's expertise in sports performance training and nutrition is well-known within the hockey community," Morehouse said, "and his presence here is a benefit for everyone from youth hockey players to elite NHL prospects. It helps to make this facility a destination point for world-class events and training – in hockey and all sports."

"I love the city and the fans of Pittsburgh," Roberts said. "The philosophies we use here are ones I honed during my career and afterward. I'm thrilled to team up with UPMC to bring philosophies and programs that we've put in place to train, develop and mentor athletes from the youth levels all the way to the professional ranks."

Another former NHL player, Matt Herr, serves as executive director of hockey operations and programming at the UPMC Lemieux Sports Complex. An outstanding two-sport athlete at the University of Michigan, Herr was drafted by professional teams in both hockey (Washington Capitals) and baseball (Atlanta Braves). He played 58 NHL games with Washington, Florida and Boston and worked in both prep school hockey and as a regional manager for USA Hockey when his playing days were over.

The senior staff also includes Rich Hixon, who oversees all business operations as president of the complex, and Lorne Goldenberg, one of the premier off-ice trainers in the country, who works closely with Roberts at the Sports Performance Center. Ty Hennes serves as hockey skills coach for both the NHL Penguins and the complex.

The sports medicine clinic includes 24 private patient rooms and a physical therapy gym overlooking the Penguins' practice rink. There also is a dedicated sports performance space including a sprinting track and batting cages.

TEAM INFORMATION

MARIO LEMIEUX

CO-OWNER/CHAIRMAN

Mario Lemieux, one of the most respected figures in the National Hockey League, added a new line to his Hall of Fame career last season: Two-time champion owner.

The Penguins claimed the Cup for the second time since Lemieux and partner Ron Burkle bought the team out of bankruptcy in 1999. It gave him four Stanley Cups overall, including two as a player in 1991 and '92.

Under the leadership of Lemieux and co-owner Ron Burkle, the Penguins have become one of the premier franchises in the NHL and in all of sports, leading the way in fan relations, youth marketing, community outreach and innovative technology while consistently putting a winning product on the ice – including 10 straight playoff appearances and four conference final appearances in the past nine seasons, in addition to the two Cups.

The Penguins entered the 2016-17 season having sold out every game for nine-plus seasons while setting new standards for television ratings, corporate sales and social media.

Lemieux and Burkle were driving forces in the quest for a new multi-purpose arena for Pittsburgh and were proud to open PPG Paints Arena in August, 2010. The arena is rated one of the top facilities in North America and hosted such national events as the 2012 and '15 NCAA Men's Basketball Tournament Second and Third Rounds, the 2012 NHL Draft, the 2013 NCAA Frozen Four and the 2014 USA Gymnastics Championships.

Lemieux also helped launch the new UPMC Lemieux Sports complex, which is now in its second year of operation. It is the first facility of its kind to combine hockey with a world-class medical center and sports performance complex.

Known as "Le Magnifique," Lemieux was one of the greatest players in NHL history from 1984-97 and 2000-06, winning six league scoring titles, three MVP awards and two Conn Smythe Trophies in addition to two Stanley Cups.

A gifted 6-foot-4 centerman, he dominated play for parts of three decades despite a relentless series of medical setbacks, including multiple back surgeries and a battle with Hodgkin's disease. He retired in 2006 as the No. 7 all-time scorer in NHL history with 1,723 points. He also ranked eighth all-time in goals (690) and 10th in assists (1,033).

After retiring as a player in 1997, he put together an ownership group to buy the Penguins out of bankruptcy in September, 1999 and then returned to the ice on Dec. 27, 2000 –becoming the first player-owner of the modern era. He also captained Team Canada to an Olympic gold medal in 2002.

The Penguins won their first Cup championship under the Lemieux-Burkle ownership in 2009.

In addition to his legendary hockey accomplishments, he continues to oversee the Mario Lemieux Foundation for cancer research and neo-natal research and hosts its celebrity golf tournament, which has raised more than $9 million for charity. More information is available at mariolemieux.org.

The Penguins ownership group, local labor organizations and members of the Pittsburgh business community honored Lemieux in 2012 with a statue to commemorate his career and contributions to the city and the region. Appropriately named "Le Magnifique," the statue, by nationally-acclaimed sculptor Bruce Wolfe, can be seen outside the Trib Total Media gate at PPG Paints Arena.

Mario and his wife, Nathalie, and their four children live in Sewickley.

RON BURKLE

CO-OWNER

Ron Burkle, one of the preeminent investors in retail, manufacturing, distribution and technology industries, is in his 18th season as co-owner of the Penguins.

He teamed with Mario Lemieux to buy the team out of bankruptcy in September, 1999, and together they have become one of the outstanding ownership tandems in professional sports, leading the team to Stanley Cup championships in 2009 and 2016.

Among Burkle's many significant contributions to the Penguins was his essential role in negotiations for a new arena. PPG Paints Arena is considered one of the finest indoor facilities in North America and has attracted many national-level events to Pittsburgh, including NCAA basketball and hockey.

Under the leadership of Lemieux and Burkle, the Penguins have sold out every game for nine-plus seasons and consistently ranked among the most fan-friendly and community-minded teams in the NHL and all of pro sports.

The Penguins have earned 10 straight playoff berths and reached the conference finals four times in the past nine years, in addition to the two Stanley Cups. The team's solid foundation of ownership has enabled hockey management to spend to the salary cap, sign many of the team's core players to long-term contracts and put a competitive team on the ice year after year.

Burkle founded the Yucaipa Companies in 1986 and has served as Chairman of the Board and controlling shareholder of numerous companies, including Alliance Entertainment, Golden State Foods, Dominick's, Fred Meyer, Ralphs and Food4Less.

Ron is Co-Chairman of the Burkle Center for International Relations at UCLA and is broadly involved in the community. He is a trustee of the Carter Center, the National Urban League, Frank Lloyd Wright Conservancy and AIDS Project Los Angeles (APLA). Ron was the Founder and Chairman of the Ralph's/Food4Less Foundation and the Fred Meyer Inc. Foundation. He was a member of the board of Occidental Petroleum Corporation (NYSE: OXY), KB Home (NYSE: KBH), Kaufman & Broad S.A. (Euronext: KOF), Yahoo! (Nasdaq: YHOO), the J. Paul Getty Trust, the Los Angeles County Museum of Art, The Music Center and the Museum of Contemporary Art, Los Angeles.

He has received numerous honors and awards, including the AFL-CIO's Murray Green Meany Kirkland Community Service Award, the Los Angeles County Federation Man of the Year, the Los Angeles County Boy Scouts Jimmy Stewart Person of the Year Award and the APLA Commitment to Life Award.

DAVID MOREHOUSE

CHIEF EXECUTIVE OFFICER & PRESIDENT

David Morehouse is Chief Executive Officer and President of the Stanley Cup-champion Penguins, overseeing all aspects of the team's operation.

The Penguins have become one of the NHL's strongest business entities during his tenure– selling out every game for nine-plus seasons, setting new standards for television ratings and corporate sales and increasing their focus on innovative youth marketing.

Morehouse joined the team as consultant on the new arena project in 2004 and was named team president in April 2007. He was given the additional responsibilities of Chief Executive Officer just as PPG Paints Arena was opening in August 2010.

Under his leadership, the Penguins have reshaped their strategic vision with an emphasis on branding, fan relations, community interaction, corporate outreach and cutting-edge technology, while maintaining a high level of performance on the ice.

A strong commitment to fan outreach includes an annual event where players personally deliver season tickets to fans' homes and a special preseason game where all 18,000 tickets are distributed free to local youths. Morehouse also was a driving force behind the new UPMC Lemieux Sports Complex, which opened in August 2015. It is the first facility to combine hockey with a world-class medical center and sports performance complex.

Morehouse joined the Penguins following a career in national politics that included stints at the White House, Pentagon and on Capitol Hill – as well as key roles in two Presidential campaigns. He attended the Community College of Allegheny County and Duquesne University, and received a master's degree in Public Administration from Harvard University's John F. Kennedy School of Government. He is a native of the Pittsburgh neighborhood of Beechview.

PITTSBURGH PENGUINS

2016 STANLEY CUP CHAMPIONS

- The Penguins defeated the NY Rangers (4-1), Washington (4-2), Tampa Bay (4-3) and San Jose (4-2) during their title run.
- The Penguins establish team records for most home playoff wins (9), playoff overtime wins (4) and playoff overtime games played (7) in a single postseason.
- Head coach Mike Sullivan became the sixth American-born head coach to win the Stanley Cup, joining a list that includes previous Penguins head coaches Bob Johnson and Dan Bylsma.
- Sidney Crosby won his first Conn Smythe Trophy as playoff MVP after posting 6 goals (3 game-winners) and 19 points.
- Jim Rutherford won the NHL's GM of the Year Award after his trades, acquisitions and hirings transformed the Penguins into a speedy, electric championship team.
- Rutherford became the first GM in the post-1967 NHL Expansion Era to win the Stanley Cup with multiple franchises (Carolina, 2006; Pittsburgh, 2016).
- Two big offseason acquisitions of Rutherford's were major contributors in the playoffs with Phil Kessel leading the team in goals (10) and points (22) and Nick Bonino posting a team-best 14 assists.
- Goaltender Matt Murray won 15 playoff games, equaling the NHL record for playoff wins by a rookie goaltender (Patrick Roy, Ron Hextall, Cam Ward).

The Pittsburgh Penguins won their fourth Stanley Cup championship in franchise history in 2016, defeating the San Jose Sharks, 4-2.

- Murray became just the fourth rookie goaltender in NHL history to lead his team to a Stanley Cup championship, joining Ken Dryden, Roy and Ward.
- The Penguins had key contributions from their young players during the Cup title run. Forwards Bryan Rust, Conor Sheary and Tom Kuhnhackl and defenseman Brian Dumoulin all scored big goals and shouldered big minutes in the postseason.
- The Penguins had one of the most dramatic turnarounds in NHL history during the regular season. The club finished the year on a 33-12-5 run, including winning 16 of their final 18 contests. The turnaround was ignited on Dec. 12 by the hiring of Sullivan, the production of Crosby (30 goals, 66 points) and defenseman Kris Letang (53 points) and contributions of young players from within the system.

HANDOFF

Daley was the first player to get the Stanley Cup from Captain Sidney Crosby on the ice at the SAP Center at San Jose following Pittsburgh's Cup-clinching victory in Game 6 of the Stanley Cup Final on June 12, 2016. Daley's mom, Trudy, was battling cancer at the time, and she promised to live long enough to watch Daley skate with the Cup. Crosby was touched by hearing this story and made sure Daley was the first player to get the Cup. Trudy lived for a little over 1 week after the Cup win, and was able to watch Trevlor lift the Cup on the ice.

3RD

Daley recorded 22 points (6G-16A) in 53 games with Pittsburgh in 2015-16 after being acquired from Chicago. That total ranked 3rd among all NHL players that switched teams midseason.

FIRST

Malkin has been named a NHL First-Team All-Star 3 times during his career – in 2007-08, '08-09 and '11-12.

Has racked up 3 100-point campaigns since making his NHL debut in October 2006, tying him with Sidney Crosby and Alex Ovechkin for the most such seasons in the NHL during that span.

Established a playoff career high with points in each of Pittsburgh's first 8 postseason games in 2013. His run included 6 multi-point games and 14 overall points (3G-11A).

ELITE COMPANY

In 2009, he won both the regular season and playoff scoring titles, allowing him to join Mario Lemieux, Wayne Gretzky, Guy Lafleur and Phil Esposito as the only NHL players to do so since the 1967 NHL Expansion.

129

Only Mario Lemieux (172 points), Jaromir Jagr (147) and current teammate Sidney Crosby (137) have amassed more playoff points in franchise history than Malkin's 129 (48G-81A).

"THE GENO"

Perhaps his finest NHL moment came in Game 2 of the 2009 Eastern Conference Final against the Carolina Hurricanes when he recorded his 1st career playoff hat trick and added an assist. His hat trick marker came on a faceoff play dubbed "The Geno" in which he won the draw forward in the offensive zone, carried the puck behind the net and scored on a spinning, backhand shot.

19

Points recorded at the 2012 World Championship, establishing a Team Russia WC scoring record. He finished with 11 goals and 8 assists, earning him tournament MVP and Top Forward honors, with Russia taking home the gold medal. Represented Russia at the 2016 World Cup of Hockey.

1ST GAME, 1ST GOAL

Beat future Hall of Fame goaltender Martin Brodeur for 1st NHL goal in his 1st game on Oct. 18, 2006 against New Jersey at Mellon Arena. Malkin went on to tally in his first 6 NHL games (7 goals total), becoming the first player in 89 years to accomplish that feat.

FATHER FIGURE

Lived with fellow Russian Sergei Gonchar and his family during his first 2 years in the NHL. When Malkin won the Hart Trophy in 2012, he dedicated the award to Gonchar.

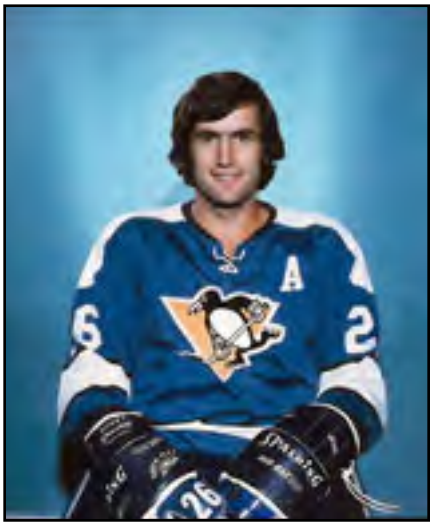
UNIFORM HISTORY

Ken Schinkel (1970)



Syl Apps (1974)

Randy Carlyle (1983)

The Penguins have experienced plenty of changes in their history and their uniforms are no exception.

When the Penguins made their NHL debut at home on October 11, 1967, the team wore the colors light blue, dark blue and white. Both the home (light blue) and road (white) uniforms simply had the word "PITTSBURGH" written diagonally down the front of the sweater with five white stripes with six thin navy blue stripes around the sleeves and bottom (home) and five dark blue stripes with six thin, white stripes around the sleeves and bottom (road). The logo, although not on the sweater, featured a hockey-playing penguin in a scarf over an inverted triangle, symbolizing the golden triangle of downtown Pittsburgh. The penguin and triangle were set inside a circle bearing the team name.

The following season (1968-69), the uniforms were changed so that the logo appeared on the game sweaters. The logo remained essentially the same, although the penguin was no longer wearing a scarf. The home (light blue) uniforms had a wide band of white trimmed in dark blue around each sleeve and the bottom, while the road (white) sweaters had bands of light blue trimmed in dark blue. The home (light blue) sweaters had white shoulder yokes and the road (white) sweaters had light blue shoulder yokes.

In the 1970-71 season the Penguins began wearing white at home and light blue on the road. The Penguins became one of the first teams in NHL history to wear nameplates featuring a player's last name above the number on the back of the jersey. The nameplates were only added to the home (white) jerseys in 1970-71.

The uniforms themselves were essentially unchanged from 1968-69 to 1971-72, until the circle around the logo was removed, leaving only a penguin and a triangle, midway through the 1971-72 season.

Beginning in 1972-73, the Penguins replaced the light blue with a bolder, royal blue color. During the Penguins' first seven years in the league, both home and road jerseys featured a lace-up collar at the base of the neck. The lace-up collars were also a thing of the past moving into the 1974-75 season.

Chevrons were used as the sleeves stripes for the 1974-75 season. Shaped in the form of an inverted V, the sleeve stripes were royal blue and white with navy blue cuffs on the home (white) jerseys. The road (royal blue) jerseys had white and navy blue sleeve stripes with white cuffs forming the chevrons. The waist striping also changed to match the chevrons with royal blue, white and navy blue moving down the home (white) uniforms and white, navy blue and white moving down the road (royal blue) uniforms.

The chevrons road (royal blue) uniform was done to the hem striping. From top to bottom, the hem striping was white, royal blue and navy blue. The home (white) uniforms reverted back to the 1972-73 and 1973-74 designs, but did not have the lace-up collar from those prior seasons. The collar was now a solid navy blue color.

For the 1977-78 season the uniforms were tri-colored with the Penguins doing away with the royal blue and bringing back the light blue the team wore in its first five seasons in the NHL. The home (white) uniforms featured navy blue sleeves with white and navy blue striping capped by light blue cuffs. The road (navy blue) uniforms featured white sleeves with light blue and white striping capped by navy blue cuffs. The front hem striping was light blue, white, navy blue and light blue on both the home (white) and road (navy blue) uniforms.

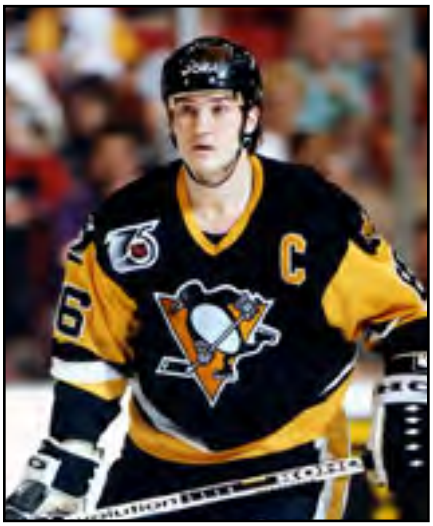
On Jan. 30, 1980 the Penguins wore black and gold for the first time. With the Steelers winning the Super Bowl and the Pirates capturing the World Series title in the same year, the Penguins hoped to gain fan support with aligning their colors with the other teams in the "City of Champions." Boston protested the color change to the NHL, arguing that black and gold had always been exclusively associated with the Bruins. However, the Penguins prevailed by virtue of a precedent set by the Pittsburgh Pirates hockey club of the late 1920s, which sported the colors.

The Penguins' new uniforms were the same design as the previous ones, with black replacing dark blue and gold replacing light blue. A third sleeve stripe was also added to both the home and road jerseys. The player numbers that were formerly on the sleeves were moved to the top of each shoulder. From 1980-81 through the 1984-85 season, the team alternated wearing gold sweaters with white at home, which also featured the tri-color sleeve striping.

On March 15, 1983, Baz Bastien, the Penguins general manager at the time, died tragically in a car accident as he returned home from a dinner honoring him. For the remainder of the 1982-83 season the Penguins added a black armband on the left sleeve of their home (white) jerseys.

For the 1988-89 season, the player numbers were moved from the shoulders to the sleeves as they were prior to the Penguins adopting the black and gold color scheme.

Paul Coffey (1988)



Mario Lemieux (1992)

The NHL All-Star Game made its first appearance in Pittsburgh on January 21, 1990. The Penguins wore a 41st NHL All-Star patch on the left shoulder of their jerseys in 1989-90 and the beginning of 1990-91. During the same time frame, the NHL shield logo appeared on the back right hem of every jersey worn in the NHL.

Advancing to the Stanley Cup Final for the first time in team history, the Penguins honored this achievement by wearing the 1991 Stanley Cup Final patch on their home and road jerseys during every game of the 1991 Stanley Cup Final vs. Minnesota.

The 1991-92 season marked the NHL's 75th anniversary. The Penguins added the NHL 75th Anniversary logo to the right chest of their jerseys that season. In addition, the Penguins were also celebrating their 25th anniversary after joining the league in 1967-68. The Penguins added their own anniversary patch to the right shoulder of the jerseys.

Head coach "Badger" Bob Johnson passed away on November 26, 1991. The following night, the Penguins honored the memory of Johnson with a candlelight ceremony and placed a "Badger" memorial patch on the left shoulder of their jerseys.

After reaching the Stanley Cup Final for the second consecutive season, the Penguins proudly donned their second Stanley Cup Final patch in as many years. This time, the Final patch was sewn onto a piece of white (home) or black (road) material and then the material swatch was sewn over the NHL 75th Anniversary patch on the right chest of the jersey.

The black and gold uniforms remained virtually unchanged until 1992-93, when the triangle and penguin logo was modernized. The home (white) sweaters featured the new logo on the front and gold shoulder inserts. The road (black) sweaters had the city's name diagonally down the front, much like the original team uniforms, with the new logo on each shoulder. Also in 1992-93, the Stanley Cup turned 100 years old and was honored by each team by having a commemorative patch added to their jerseys during the season. The Penguins wore the patch on the right chest of their home (white) jerseys and did not wear the patch on their road (black) jerseys due to the lack of an appropriate place to put the patch with the new "PITTSBURGH" diagonal jerseys with the new logos on each shoulder.

During the 1995-96 season, the Penguins were one of five NHL teams to introduce a third jersey. The Penguins' new uniform, which made its debut on Jan. 27, 1996 vs. the Philadelphia Flyers, featured a black background with a new, modernized midsection, shoulder and sleeve design that included innovative striping and a blend of team colors The alternate uniform replaced the "PITTSBURGH" road jersey as the team's away uniform for 1997-98 season.

In 1999-00, the NHL commemorated the league's advance into the new millennium with an NHL2000 patch that was placed on the right chest of each team's jerseys in team colors. The Penguins' NHL2000 patch was black with silver lettering.

Traveling to Japan for the first two games of the 2000-01 season to face the Nashville Predators, the Penguins wore a commemorative GameOne/Japan patch on the right chest of their home (white) and black (road) jerseys.

On Oct. 28, 2000 the Penguins hosted the New Jersey Devils and introduced a new third jersey. The black sweater featured the popular "skating penguin" logo, which the team wore during its 1991 and 1992 Stanley Cup championship seasons, and the newest color addition, Vegas gold. This black jersey served as the Penguins' third jersey for the 2000-01 and 2001-02 seasons.

In 2002-03, the Penguins introduced a white counterpart to the black "skating penguin" and Vegas gold colored jerseys. These "skating penguin" uniforms served as the Penguins home and road jerseys from 2002-03 to 2006-07.

On Jan. 22, 2007 during the NHL All-Star break, the NHL and Reebok unveiled the new Rbk EDGE Uniform System. The Penguins' jerseys now feature thicker Vegas gold side sections, while the black and white body portions of the jersey go all the way to the bottom hem. The cuffs and underarms are black on the white-based jerseys and are white on the black-based uniforms. Additional Vegas gold inserts appear on the sleeves just below the numbers. The NHL shield also has moved from the back right hem to the base of the front neckline.

The Penguins wore retro jerseys when they battled the Sabres at the NHL Winter Classic on Jan. 1, 2008 at Ralph Wilson Stadium. The Penguins wore powder blue jerseys patterned after the 1968-69 uniforms. The jersey featured the Penguins logo inside a circle. There was a wide band of white trimmed in dark blue around each sleeve and the bottom with white shoulder yokes. The jersey became the club's official alternate third jersey.

In 2010-11 the Penguins opened the brand-new CONSOL Energy Center. To commemorate the event, the team wore a special patch at all home games featuring the team logo and outline of the new arena's spine.

The Penguins released a new Winter Classic uniform for their showdown with the Washington Capitals Jan. 1, 2011 at Heinz Field. Predominantly navy blue with light blue striped accents on the elbows and bottom, the jersey served as another alternate uniform for the season. The jerseys featured the team's inaugural skating penguin logo (which hadn't previously been worn on the jersey) on the crest and lace-up collar at the base of the neck.

For their third outdoor game on March 1, 2014 against the Chicago Blackhawks at Soldier Field as part of the NHL's Stadium Series, the Penguins wore a unique uniform that utilized secondary colors within the team's existing color palates.

It featured a chrome-treated Penguins logo design inspired from the chrome details of the NHL shield, a dynamic and modern look to conventional team identity. Numbering on the back of the jerseys was enlarged and sleeve numbers were angled to improve visibility in outdoor venues.

The Penguins went back to the future during the 2014-15 season, unveiling 'Pittsburgh Gold' third jerseys reminiscent of the sweaters the Penguins wore during their back-to-back Stanley Cup championship seasons of 1991 and '92.

At the outset of the team's 50th season in 2016-17, the Penguins announced that they would be returning full-time to a 'Pittsburgh Gold' color scheme, eliminating Vegas gold. The third jersey from the '14-15 and '15-16 seasons became the full-time home jersey, with an accompanying white version added for road contests.

MEDIA INFORMATION

MEDIA ENTRANCE:

Members of the media can access PPG Paints Arena through the administrative entrance located near the corner of Fifth Avenue and Washington Place, just to the right of the People's Gas box office.

Media with proper accreditation should proceed to the 1st floor, using the elevators just inside the administrative entrance. Media will pass through three sets of double doors before turning right down the hallway towards the media areas. The media workroom will be on the left and the elevators to the media level are located further down the hallway to the right.

The Penguins require all members of the media to display credentials at all times inside PPG Paints Arena.

MEDIA WORKROOM:

The media workroom is located on the lower level in the south end of the building. Members of the media and game night staff must show passes or credentials at the door for admittance. The media room will be open two hours prior to the start of each game with dinner and beverages available for purchase.

The media workroom is equipped with wireless Internet, electrical outlets and a mult box. The media room is open to the media on all game days.

MEDIA LEVEL:

The media level is located on the east side of the building above sections 216-223. It is for game personnel and working members of the media only. Designated elevators to the media level are located down the hallway from the media room in the south end of the building. Take the elevators to the 7th floor and exit to the right.

Please note that ALL seats in the media level are assigned and media should refer to the posted seating charts for direction.

INDIVIDUAL GAME CREDENTIALS:

Game-by-game credentials will be issued based on availability and should be reserved as early as possible. Major daily newspapers, radio and television will receive priority in handling game-by-game requests. Requests from independent websites, freelance writers or blogs will not be fulfilled. These requests must be submitted to Morgan Gallagher (mgallagher@pittsburghpenguins.com) no later than 48 hours prior to the game. THERE WILL BE NO EXCEPTIONS.

Game-by-game credentials can be picked up at the designated media entrance located to the right of the box office along Fifth Avenue two hours prior to game time.

Penguins team photographers and photographers affiliated with major media outlets that cover the team on a regular basis will be given priority for ice-level positions. All photographers at ice-level will be shooting through open holes in the glass. Single-game photographer credentials will be available on a game-by-game basis and assignments may rotate each period. Photo assignments will be posted in the media workroom and the photographer workroom prior to each game.

The Penguins will provide stools to be used at all ice-level photo positions. The stools will be numbered and available for pick up inside the photographer workroom. All stools must be signed out and returned to the workroom at the end of the night. The Penguins require that all ice-level photographers use the provided stools as a courtesy to our fans.

TELEVISION CREWS:

Due to seating limitations, television crews will not be assigned seating in the media level. Only on-air talent will be assigned seats in the media level. Television crews are asked to view the game in the media workroom. TV crews are not permitted to shoot highlight footage of game action.

LOCKER ROOM ACCESS:

The locker rooms are located behind the player benches on the west side of the building on the lower level. Both are accessible via the hallway from the media workroom.

The Penguins locker room will open no later than five minutes after the conclusion of the game per NHL regulations. Please be advised that this includes allotted time for post-game television interviews and the three stars ceremony. The Penguins training room, lounge and the players' dressing area is off-limits to the media at all times. The entrance to the Penguins locker room is through the double doors across from Suite 66 on the lower level.

At the conclusion of practice, the locker room will be open as per NHL requirements. Media are not permitted to access the Penguins runway at any time during practices or morning skates.

Only working members of the media with proper media credentials will be admitted to the locker rooms. Interns are permitted in the locker room in a working capacity. They are not permitted to observe or "assist" full-time members of the media during availability. Still photography is prohibited inside the locker room.

POST-GAME PROCEDURES:

Post-game briefings with Penguins head coach Mike Sullivan will be held after each game in the media room. Wireless Internet and a mult box will be available in the media room.

Post-game availability with the visiting head coach will be in the hallway near the visiting locker room.

Post-game audio from both coaches is available via email. Please see a member of the communications staff prior to the start of the game to be added to the distribution list.

Game notes and statistics will be available online and in the media workroom prior to practices and morning skates as well as the media level on game nights. Additional information from the NHL will also be available at these locations throughout the regular season.

Game summaries are available after each period in the media level. Final game summaries are distributed in the media level and media workroom after the game. If you require any special needs, please see a member of the Penguins communications staff.

PRACTICES AND MORNING SKATES:

Practice sessions are open to all accredited members of the media. The Penguins communications department will email out a practice and availability schedule at the beginning of each month. This email will contain a JPEG that can be saved directly to your phone. All times and locations are subject to change. The communications department will send an advisory when times or locations change. Credentials are required at practices.

RADIO NETWORK:

"The X", 105.9 FM, will serve as the Penguins' flagship radio station for the 2016-17 season. Hall of Famer Mike Lange and two-time Stanley Cup champion Phil Bourque will call the action for all 82 games. "The X" is part of the Clear Channel Communications group.

TELEVSION COVERAGE:

ROOT SPORTS continues its extraordinary coverage of Penguins games this season, producing a minimum of 70 games. Paul Steigerwald and two-time Stanley Cup champion Bob Errey will call the action along with rink-side reporter, Dan Potash.

ROOT SPORTS BROADCAST TEAM

PAUL STEIGERWALD
PLAY-BY-PLAY ANNOUNCER

Pittsburgh native Paul Steigerwald is in his 11th season as play-by-play announcer for Penguins telecasts on ROOT SPORTS.

He spent six seasons as the radio voice of the Penguins and the previous 14 seasons as color commentator on Penguins TV and radio broadcasts.

"Staggy," a tireless worker and interviewer, is well-known by coaches and players across the NHL.

Steigerwald developed his interest in hockey as a youngster in the South Hills – in part because his neighbor, former Penguins GM Jack Riley, gave local kids tickets to attend Penguins games.

He attended Kent State University, where he worked as one of the hockey club's broadcasters, and began his professional broadcasting career with the Johnstown Red Wings (EHL) in 1979.

Steigerwald joined the Penguins organization in 1980 as director of marketing and also served as intermission host for radio and television broadcasts. In 1985, he joined the broadcast team as a color commentator. He left the Penguins front office in 1988 for a position in the sports department of KDKA-TV, but still maintained his color commentator duties.

In addition, Steigerwald served as play-by-play broadcaster with the Altoona Curve baseball club during the 2005, '06 and '07 seasons.

BOB ERREY
COLOR ANALYST

Bob Errey is in his 13th season on Penguins television broadcasts, where he joins Paul Steigerwald.

Previously, Errey worked as the color commentator for Penguins radio broadcasts alongside Steigerwald for four seasons.

Errey was the Penguins' first-round draft pick in 1983 and played 11 seasons in Pittsburgh, recording 132 goals, 272 points and 651 penalty minutes in 572 games.

MIKE LANGE

One of the most unique broadcasters in professional sports, Mike Lange is in his 42nd year as the voice of the Penguins, handling radio play-by-play on the club's flagship station, 105.9 FM "The X".

Known for his creative and colorful style, including trademark phrases such as "Buy Sam A Drink And Get His Dog One, Too," Lange was awarded the Foster Hewitt award by the Hockey Hall of Fame in 2001.

Lange's relationship with the Penguins began in 1974-75, when he broke into the NHL as a radio play-by-play man. He left for one season, but returned in 1976-77 and has been a fixture on the Penguins' scene ever since.

Lange did radio exclusively until 1979, when games were simulcast on radio and TV. He served as the television voice of the Penguins through 2005-06, before returning to the radio booth in 2006-07.

A native of Sacramento, California, Lange earned a degree in broadcasting from Sacramento State University before starting his career as the voice of the Phoenix Roadrunners (WHL) in 1970. He also served as the play-by-play voice of the San Diego Gulls (WHL) in 1973-74 before joining the Penguins.

In addition to his tenure with the Penguins, Lange handled play-by-play duties for the Pittsburgh Pirates in 1986-87. A well-known member of the Pittsburgh community, Lange makes numerous personal appearances throughout the year and is actively involved in charity work.

PHIL BOURQUE

Two-time Stanley Cup champion Phil Bourque is in his 14th season on the Penguins broadcast team, serving as color commentator alongside Mike Lange.

A gritty winger/defenseman, Bourque was signed by Pittsburgh as a free agent in 1982, and went on to record 164 points (75G-89A) in 344 regular-season games with the Penguins between 1983 and 1992. For his career he totaled 199 points (88G-111A) in 477 games with the Penguins, New York Rangers and Ottawa.

Since retiring from professional hockey in 2000, Bourque has co-hosted Penguins pre- and post-game shows on the Penguins Radio Network and worked as a contributor for ROOT SPORTS' coverage of Penguins hockey.
